

20th Annual Faraday Lecture

Presented by:

Lynn Hogue

Associate Director of the Center for Chemistry
Education at Miami University of Ohio

"Science for Everyone"

Science doesn't have to be intimidating, and it certainly should never be boring. This presentation will reunite the fun hands-on with the mental minds-on aspects of chemistry and help develop positive attitudes toward science. Science is for everyone and thinking of oneself as a scientist is an important first step to science literacy, problem-solving and possibly a career in the field.

Tuesday, November 13, 2007

7:30 pm

Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall
4141 Fifth Avenue in Pittsburgh (Oakland), PA

FREE & OPEN TO THE PUBLIC
Complimentary Tickets at the Door
Sponsored by

The Spectroscopy Society of Pittsburgh
The Society for Analytical Chemists of Pittsburgh

www.sacp.org or www.ssp-pgh.org